Disaster Strikes! Student Aid For Fire Victims

Appeal For Aid Begun

Every day we as citizens of the United States are appealed to for funds to assist one charitable cause after another. We hesitate to ask for funds from the student body, but after much deliberation and thought, the Associated Students came to the conclusion that this was not an appeal for charity, but an appeal for you to help your fellow students out of a jam.

We are speaking about the students who had the misfortune to lose whatever they had in the Haight Street fire last Sunday morning.

The students of San Francisco State College have always been noted for their friendliness and their spirit of co-operation.

Your friends, who lost all they owned in the disaster, need your help. We could list all the reasons usually rendered for fund drives, but in this particuluar case none are needed. You well know the situation and you understand that it could have happened to you.

You will be contacted to assist. Please try to give something . For once you will be giving to something you can see.

We have no motto to appeal to your pocketbook. We don't ask you to give till it hurts. We just ask you to give whatever you can and assure you that it will be appreciated. Thank you.

Our Sympathy

The student body wishes to extend its condolence and deepest sympathy to the families of our fellow students, Miss Bessie Gilevick and Mrs. Mary Martin, who have joined the greatest Teacher of them all.

UMT Deferments For Students

The Universal Military Training and Service Act, which became a law on June 19, 1951, will have definite influence on our male students at San Francisco State College, as reported by the office of the dean of men.

The Defense Information Bulletin, issued by the office of education, has declared a new interpretation of the term "academic year." As it stands at present, "College students may be deferred until they complete their academic year." A student having fully complied with other sections of the law will be deferred for a full academic year, as long as he maintains a full course of study (minimum of 12 units) per semester, and still complete a full year of study.

The status of deferments as to class standing and test score are also clarified in that local draft boards are not required to defer any person solely on this basis.

Those required to serve in the armed forces will serve 24 months rather than 21 months as before.

Deferments for special students found necessary to protect the national health, safety or interest are accepted. Deferments are decided on an individual basis.

Under-graduate students report to their selective service boards on form 109. Graduates do not. The under - graduate deferments are

Dr. Hall Faculty Rep.

At the request of President Don Johnson of the student body, Dr. George Gibson, acting president of the college, recently appointed Dr. Arthur J. Hall to serve on the Summer session Board of Directors. He is assistant professor in mathematics and education, and is replacing Dr. Louis Wasserman, who is not on campus this summer.

Dr. Hall has been on campus since Spring 1947, where he is an advisor of mathematics and in the college counseling program. He also teaches at Hamilton Field on the in-service program.

Dr. Hall is also president of the California Mathematics Council.

Arson Is Suspected In Local Fire

By Christina Zieman

The early morning blaze last Sunday which razed the apartment house at 214 Haight Street, took the lives of eight persons.

Bessie Gilevick and Mrs. Mary Martin, two of the eight dead, were Summer school students at San Francisco State College.

An official college announcement listed Dr. Mary Bell, faculty member, Simon Cohen, and Mrs. Clara Gill, students, as injured. Other students lost all their belongings in one of the city's most disastrous fires.

An investigation for arson was immediately undertaken, and it has been definitely ascertained that the fire was deliberately set. Fire Marshal Kelly stated that the blaze could not have been fanned to such a quick start unaided.

The cry has been heard all over the city, "Why are such buildings not condemned?" Although the apartment housed many more persons than an absolute safety maximum should allow, there were no fire laws broken in its operation.

The city's fire regulations require that a house must meet the safety laws as they were applied when the building was constructed. Routine investigations are made by the fire department, but it is the landlord's moral responsibility to renovate their buildings to suit the requirements of modern safety standards.

Housing Lists Needed

The college housing secretary, Mrs. Elizabeth Gianopoulos, will assist students and faculty in obtaining living accommodations during their residence at State. Office hours are from 8 to 12 and 1 to 5 in Room 105, College Hall.

Persons knowing of accommodations to be available are requested to register such information with the housing secretary. There is particular need at this time for low-cost apartments, either furnished or unfurnished, and rent not to exceed $60 per month.

Students Among Victims

By Sharon McDonnell

Tragedy struck home last Sunday morning when the College Court Apartments on Haight Street near the college was destroyed by fire. Eleven of the inhabitants were connected with San Francisco State College, as faculty or students. Two of the students, Miss Bessie Gilevick and Mrs. Mary Martin, perished in the disaster.

It was miraculous that Dr. Mary Bell was saved. She lived on the third floor of the building. Dr. Bell crawled to the fire escape, leaving her braces behind and descended to safety. She is now at Stanford Hospital, not seriously injured.

Simon Cohen, a foreign student majoring in dramatics, and a veteran of the Israeli Army, was not so fortunate. At first it was feared Simon's back was broken, but further reports said it was a minor break in the vertebrae. Everything he owned was consumed.

Another to lose all his possessions is Manlio Fontana, a foreign student from Italy. Manlio is suffering from minor burns and cut fingers.

The most seriously injured of State's students was Mrs. Clara Gill. Mrs. Gill jumped from the third floor and fractured both feet. Again, everything was lost.

Seleh Mehi Alash was the most fortunate of all State students caught in the fire. He was living on the first floor and was able to save most of his possessions and escape unharmed.

The remaining four students, Eva Gardner, Grace Justice, Nelle McKee and Clio Grey, were away for the weekend. Miss McKee, whose apartment was on the fourth floor, was visiting in Vallejo and heard of the tragedy over the radio Sunday night.

Cleo Grey and her sister had sublet the apartment of Mrs. Masalro, who lost all her personal belongings, including the furniture she owned.

The most tragic news of the disaster was the death of the two teachers from Visalia.

The Associated Students are sponsoring a drive for clothes and money for these students. You will undoubtedly be asked to give in the course of the drive.

We do not wish this to be a charity drive, but a sincere "helping hand" extended to our fellow students when they are so in need.

Mr. Herbert Blau Objects To Published Statements

July 20, 1951.

Editors Golden Gater San Francisco State College, San Francisco, California.

Dear Sirs: My objections to your issue of July 19, which constitutes the most flagrant abuse of editorial privilege I have ever encountered on a college campus, are too numerous to specify here; but I should like to go on record regarding certain crucial points.

First, throughout the paper you give the impression that my attitude in this whole affair has been coincident with that of the Board of Directors. This, as you know, is not so. I could never permit myself to be aligned with forces whose admitted tactics for securing suspension of a newspaper in order to impose upon it a set of undemocratic and pernicious principles, were in the extreme reprehensible. (The fact that the new Board of Publications will not be constituted on these principles in no way alters my opinion.) My recommendation that Mr. Larrick be removed from the editorship of the Gater was not based upon incompetence or misuse of authority on his part, but only upon my belief that (after intense provocation) he violated a college regulation regarding the dissemination of information off-campus. In all other respects—his attitude toward the abuse of power by the Board of Directors, his resentment of the journalistically distasteful 9-point resolution, his refusal to be intimidated or to succumb to interference in editorial routine—I am wholeheartedly in support of Mr. Larrick. Whatever his ultimate behavior may have been, it must be understood by the student body that the initial violation of authority was not by him, but by the Board of Directors, when they circumvented the established Editorial Board and delayed, then suspended publication of the Gater for insufficient cause.

Second, your statement that "The remaining members of the staff resigned" is factually incorrect. Only one member, Mr. Don Lucey, sports editor, officially tendered a resignation. The others, most of whom are enrolled in my Journalism 102 (newspaper staff) course, were told that in view of the immitigable disruption of the class schedule (it is conducted in conjunction with the Gater), it would be necessary to run the class on an instructional rather than a workshop basis. That none of the students decided to continue with the Gater on an extra-curricular basis can be attributed, I think, to their inexperience. They had originally registered for the course in order to learn journalism techniques by participating in production; some have told me frankly that they did not feel they could learn such techniques by working on a paper manned by equally inexperienced people, such as those now putting out the Gater. Any motivations beyond this — as, for instance, loyalty to their editor— are, I would say, no less admirable.

Third, in recounting the events of the controversy, you have indulged in an incredible amount of distortion and omission. You make no mention of the facts (1) that the editor was never contacted before the issue in question was delayed; (2) that the advertising commitments were late and the specific advertisement omitted at the editor's rightful discretion; (3) that all editorial matter was not only ready at the prescribed time, but that virtually all of it was set up and ready to go and that, despite my approval of the content and make-up, permission was nevertheless refused for its publication until issues extraneous to this particular edition were introduced; (4) that in the meeting on July 5 the points of difference were not, as you say, "arbitrated," but rather, by a curious hocus-pocus of procedure, the question of authority for the Golden Gater was discussed and the 9-point resolution advanced and rejected by Mr. Larrick, Mr. Spingolo, and myself; (5) that at no time during this whole business was the existing Editorial Board ever consulted or really examined as to fitness; (6) that the Gater staff did not object so much to the "ultimate" authority of the Board of Directors, but rather to its interpretation of that authority; (7) that practically every point—not merely two—in the 9-point resolution was deemed objectionable by the staff; (8) and finally that though I consented to be available for advice to the new "staff" of the Gater, I stated specifically, several times, that I was in principle opposed to publication of the paper without its original staff or capable substitutes; and that, in fact, I had recommended that the paper be suspended for the summer.

That this last recommendation was not ill-considered is testified to by the issue you have just published. Ethically and technically it is incompetent. Journalistic deficiencies are excusable, but delib-

Puppet Show to Be Held in F. B. Aud.

An exhibition of community materials and resources and a demonstration of a puppet show, used as a culminating activity in the development of a unit, will be shown on July 31 at 11 a.m. These activities, which will be centered about the unit "Mexico," are part of the co-ordinated efforts of education, art, music and physical education classes.

The puppet show will start at 11 in the Frederic Burk Auditorium, and will feature the work of Mrs. Katherine Sears' Art 104 class. Following this, the exhibition of community resources and materials will take place in the Activities Room.

The purpose of the show and exhibit is to show to teachers and future teachers methods of organizing a unit of work.

Josephine Baker Has It!

Josephine Baker, the star of the Follies in Paris, is now appearing at the Golden Gate Theater downtown. The performance seems to have something indescribably different, which makes Miss Baker one of the greatest show women of our times.

According to many who saw the show, they agreed it was extremely worthwhile.

Staff Maintains Position But Wants to Be Courteous

The Editors of the Golden Gater extend their sincere apologies to Mr. Blau for any misinterpretations which were printed in last week's Golden Gater. We hasten to assure all that this was not done intentionally or maliciously on our part. Misinterpretations are common in any dispute, and this one was no exception.

'Battling Bulldogs' Were Good in Spring

San Francisco State's Golden Gator footballers anticipate that one of their toughest rivals next Fall will be the Fresno State Bulldogs.

The coach of Fresno State is Duke Jacobs. He will be starting his second season for the Bulldogs. Before coming to Fresno he was an assistant to Bud Wilkinson at the University of Oklahoma.

In spring practice Jacobs found better strength in the line than he had last year, with dependable men three deep at every position. In the backfield there was no one to replace John Morse, ace of last year's Bulldog entry, who graduated. Nor was there an experienced quarterback.

However, there were some boys who showed signs of developing satisfactorily. The best of these probably will be Fibber Hirayama, a 140-pound elusive scatback; Larry Willoughby, a 10-second sprinter from Orange Coast J. C.; and Don Duncan, a quarterback from Modesto J. C., who adapted himself to Duke Jacobs' offensive formations very handily.

Duke Jacobs uses the "Split T" formation, originated by Don Faurot at the University of Missouri, and used by such coaches as Wilkenson at Oklahoma. It differs from the standard T, in that the quarterback works parallel to the line of scrimmage rather than dropping back from it.

This year will be the third time the Bulldogs and the Gators will meet on the gridiron. Fresno has twice been the winner, with scores of 31-13 in 1932, and 34-0 in 1934.

The enrollment at Fresno State is 3000, and the colors are Cardinal and Blue. The mascot is the bulldog. The college was founded in 1911, and began intercollegiate sports in 1921.

The game with S. F. State will be played in Ratcliffe Stadium, Fresno, which has a seating capacity of 13,500, on Saturday, November 24.

Willie Malmborg to Heads Athletic Bd.

Willie Malmborg was elected chairman of the Athletic Board of Control for the coming year at a meeting held on Tuesday, July 17. He is serving as a student member at large, appointed by the president of the Associated Students, for a term of one year.

A physical education major, Willie is a past president of Delta Phi Gamma fraternity, and participated in many activities of the college.

The board was created in January of this year to "Establish and revise general policies for the conduct of intercollegiate athletics"; to negotiate with the Board of Control and the Board of Directors of the Associated Students for the purpose of establishing definite agreements concerning the financial support of the intercollegiate program (including accident insurance for athletes) from Associated Students membership fees and from gate receipts, travel guarantees, rental, concessions, or other sources of income related to intercollegiate contests; to determine policies for scheduling intercollegiate contests (and to act upon the proposed schedules recommended by the Director of Athletics and upon proposed changes in such schedules); to act upon the recommendations of the Director of Athletics for the granting of intercollegiate athletics awards; to analyze the responsibilities of intercollegiate assignments to offices of the college and Associated Students for carrying out the intercollegiate program, and to recommend to the president of the college such modifications of this administrative assignments as made from time to time and deemed advisable; to recommend all contracts in connection with intercollegiate athletics and the leasing of athletics facilities for the signature of a person or persons authorized to sign such contracts by the Associated Students Board of Directors; to formulate and revise as needed a set of definite procedures for the efficient performance of the various duties delegated to the Athletic Board of Control; to perform any other functions related to intercollegiate athletics that may be delegated to the board by the president of the college, and to consider any recommendations made by the Associated Students Board of Directors.

Others serving on this year's board are Harry Redlick, president of Block S; Dean Bergstresser, Mr. Brakebill and Mr. Kaufman. Mr. Katz, Mr. Verducci, Dr. Morse and Sharon McDonnell are ex-officio, non-voting members.

Tennis Tourney Finals Will Be Run Off Today

This may come as something of a shock to you readers, but summer is here!

So, if you can grope your way through the fog to the tennis courts, you will be well rewarded for your effort. You'll see the finals of the Summer session tennis tournament being played. You'd better grab your Gater and run, though, for the women's singles finals start today noon and will be followed by the men's singles finals at 1 o'clock.

The tournament, which is the outstanding athletic event at State during the summer is under the abe direction of Joe Woolfson, and it is always an exciting event to watch. Those players battling their way to the finals will receive prizes, according to Mr. Woolfson.

The men's singles promises to be an especially exciting event. Ted Collins, a former College of the Pacific star, is favored to win, but he will receive some stiff competition from such State stars as Bill Holland, Alex Swetka and Gene Phillips, the defending champion.

At this writing Alex Swetka and Gene Phillips had yet to play their second round, the winner of which will play Bill Holland in the semi-finals. Ted Collins has already battled his way to the finals by defeating John Holden, 6-8, 8-6, 6-4. Collins won the first two rounds by default.

In the women's singles Barbara Holden and Mary Ann Bruneman have advanced to the finals. Mrs. Holden, defending women's champion, defeated Fay Cuthbertson in the semi-finals, 6-1, 6-3, and Mary Ann Bruneman overcame stiff competition and defeated Thelma Schiller, 6-3, 4-6, 6-3. Scores:

Men's singles, first rounds: Collins d. Gustafson, default; Clayton d. Robles, 6-1, 7-5; Hay d. Dalton, 6-1, 6-1; Holden d. Paoli, 6-0, 6-3; Swetka d. Lucey, 6-0, 6-0; Phillips d. Gustavino, 6-3, 6-2; Toschi d. Hagler, 6-0, 6-2; Holland d. E. Lowart, 6-1, 6-2.

Second rounds—Collins d. Clayton, default; Holden d. Hay, 6-8, 8-6, 6-4; Holland d. Toschi, 2-6, 6-1, 6-4.

Semi-finals—Collins d. Holden, 6-3, 6-3.

Women's scores—Holden d. Oliva, 6-1, 6-1; Cuthbertson d. Carroll, 6-0, 6-1; Bruneman d. Oyamada, 6-1, 6-2; Shiller d. Garaventa, 6-1, 6-2.

Semi-finals—Holden d. Cuthbertson, 6-1, 6-3; Bruneman d. Schiller, 6-3, 4-6, 6-3.

P. E. Workshops Set For Post Session

San Francisco State's Physical Education and Recreation departments are sponsoring a special series of one week workshops which will cover physical education for the elementary school—one week for each level, and one week workshops in baseball, athletic conditioning and aquatics.

The workshop in physical education for primary grades will be held from August 6-10, intermediate grades from August 13-17, upper grades from August 20-24.

Graduate students and teachers of experience may use the "Workshops in Physical Education for the Elementary School," scheduled during Post session, as a substitute for three units required in professional physical education for the General Elementary Credential. Such arrangements must be made with approval of chairmen of the elementary school physical education workshops.

Individual and groups will select and study practical problems in the area of principles, curriculum, methods of teaching, class organization and management, fundamental skills, and so forth.

Qualified students may register for the entire course (3 units) or for a one week session (1 unit).

Staff members for this course will include Mrs. Florence Stephenson, chairman of physical education for women at San Francisco State College; Jack Capri, vice principal of McClymonds High School, Oakland; Miss Genevieve Dexter, consultant in physical education; Fredricka Moore, co-ordinator of corrective physical education and dance of the Los Angeles County schools; and Henry Lee Hofmann, physical education and dance instructor at Mills College.

The workshop in baseball will be held August 6-10. All phases of baseball will be thoroughly demonstrated and discussed.

Members of the staff wil include Richard Boyle, chairman, associate professor of physical education and baseball coach of San Francisco State College; Joseph Orengo, general manager of the San Francisco Seals, professional baseball club; Francis "Lefty" O'Doul, manager of the Seals; George "Mickey" Schader, chief scout for the Seals; George Wolfman, baseball coach for Mission High School; and other outstanding coaches and Seals players.

Educator Protests Old Card System

By Lucie Dean Patton
A Rural School Teacher in Lassen County.

So you are going to be a teacher? The degree has been earned. The contract has been signed. You are prepared to do a great job!

In your years of preparation you have visualized your teaching as a success. You have contemplated many procedures and have decided upon correct techniques.

Just a minute!

Have you planned satisfactory methods of reporting to parents? The method most commonly used in reporting to parents has been the written report card. Revised or unrevised, the report is inadequate in meeting satisfactorily the needs of parents, pupils and teachers. Parents are usually eager to help their children develop fully. Parents need and desire opportunities for a closer relationship with the school.

Shall we consider the points of advantage of the Parent-Teacher conference?

1. Provides opportunities for better parent-teacher relationship.

2. Parent and teacher become better acquainted, therefore both can plan more effectively for the growth and development of the child physically, mentally, socially and emotionally.

3. Helps to break down emotional barriers. Parents become less antagonistic toward the school and have less fear of the school.

4. Less criticism of the school when parents see modern educational practices in action.

5. Creates an increased desire among parents for their own additional education.

6. Improved public relations.

If we expect to be successful teachers, let us make use of the most successful techniques of good teaching.

Band Concerts Huge Success

Music for the Summer Session concerts in the Rally Bowl, which are played on Thursday afternoons at 12:15, not only affords very pleasant listening, but also serves as a musical clinic. The music is chosen for teachers and students who are interested in studying various types of musical material—classics, novelties, new music for experimentation, and techniques of presentation. With this thought in mind, interested students are urged to do guest conducting.

Last Thursday's concert was so "guest conducted" by Elizabeth Gordon, Nicholas D'Angell, Ronald Rhodes, Joy Giblin, Tom Hart and Bill Wheeler.

This Thursday's concert will include the Nordic Symphony No. 1 by Hanson, "Circus Time" by Lang, "Badinage for Brasses" by Walters, "Storm King" by Finlayson, and "Sleigh Ride" by Anderson.

In the Art Department experimentation by teachers and those entering the field is being developed in the media of marionettes. Two shows will be produced on July 31. The first show, "Hansel and Gretel," will be done by students under the direction of Mr. Ralph Chesse of the Art Department. It will start at 2:30 o'clock in Frederic Burk Auditorium. Admission will be free.

The second show, "Don Juan," will be done by professionals under the direction of Mr. Chesse. Curtain time will be set for 8:15 p.m. again in Frederic Burk Auditorium. Admission will be 15 cents with a student body card and 25 cents without.

MILITARY DEFERMENTS

based on class standing: Freshmen, upper, ½; sophomore, upper, ⅔; junior, upper, 3/4; senior, upper, ½.

Your standing in class is determined by the following: 0 to 29, ½ units, freshmen; 30 to 59, ½ units, sophomore; 60 to 89, ½ units, junior; 90 to 120, senior.

All graduate students prior to June of 1951 need a letter to certify good standing. Master degree candidates need a 2-point scholastic average; Gen. Sec., 1.5; Elem., 1.0; Sp. Sec., 1.0, for good standing.

A senior who received a degree in June of 1951, or who will receive a degree at the end of Summer session 1951, and plans to request deferment for purpose of advance study in a professional field at another institution, will be required to furnish two copies of form 109 to local draft board. The institution last attended will complete this form and attest to class status during the senior year. The institution which he plans to attend will certify that he has been admitted on S. S. Form 109, too. This process is for all students who transfer from another school.

erate extensive distortion of fact is not. If the Board of Directors' concern about student body funds and rights is genuine, then it has no alternative but to suspend publication for the rest of the summer. A mimeographed bulletin will suffice for routine campus announcements. Anything beyond that (and a newspaper is more than a mere advertising medium for college events), in view of the gross inadequacies of the July 19 issue, would be a waste of the Associated students' money. Very truly yours,

HERBERT BLAU,
Faculty Adviser, Journalism.

P.S.—I trust that you will give this letter your utmost consideration. Should you decide to go ahead with publication, let me point out that as editors of a free and responsible press you have the prerogative of abridging this letter (provided that you indicate such abridgement and do not distort the meaning) and even of refusing to print it. juries, will be held August 13-17. Enrollees will have an opportunity to develop personal skill in taping techniques and common first aid practices for athletic injuries.

Staff members will include Joseph Moore, chairman, and physical instructor in physical education at S. F. State; Roand "Kickapoo" Logan, manager of Logan Rainiers Aids; Bertram Gustafson, a physical therapist; and Dr. Martin Debenham, associate professor of health education at S. F. State.

The third workshop, aquatics, will be held August 20-24, and will cover problems dealing with the coaching of competitive swimming, methods of teaching swimming, diving and life-saving and other subjects.

Harold Harden, director of aquatics at S. F. State, will be the chairman. Others on the staff will include Bruce Harlan, former national collegiate and olympic diving champion; John Wallace, director of safety education services, S. F. Chapter, American Red Cross; Joan Mallory, former national swimming champion; Lyle Collett, director of swimming at Gustafson and Grunsky's Physiotherapy Clinic; and William Budd, assistant director of safety services for the Pacific Area Office of the American Red Cross.
